

FREE

If your daydreams of the perfect job include:

- Wearing jeans and t-shirts to work;
- Listening to music all day;
- Playing video games, doing karaoke and dancing;
- Talking to your peers about what's cool;
- Traveling around the State of Mississippi free of charge; and
- Saving lives.

ATTENTION:
BRAND
AMBASSADORS NEEDED!!!

You might want to keep reading...

The Partnership for a Healthy Mississippi is currently seeking young adults ages 18-26 to serve as part-time marketers/brand ambassadors for its Generation FREE youth tobacco prevention brand during the 2011-2012 FREEstyle campaign.

Applicants must:

- Be available for Fridays and Saturdays during the 2011 fall football season and throughout the week during the 2012 spring basketball and baseball seasons.
- Be outgoing and energetic and able to relate to youth ages 12-18 (middle school and high school students).
- Be able to interact actively and informatively and engage youth in discussions about their attitudes on tobacco, the tobacco industry and Mississippi's youth tobacco prevention brand.
- Be willing to learn information related to the health effects of tobacco, the targeting of youth by the tobacco industry and the manipulative marketing tactics employed by tobacco companies and have the ability to communicate this information to youth.
- Have excellent communication skills and reliable transportation.

No previous experience in marketing, tobacco prevention or youth programs is required.

For more information or to request an application, contact Jason Thompson at 601.940.7059 or jthompson@fcgworks.com. If you send an e-mail, please include "FREEstyle Brand Ambassador" in the subject line and include your name, e-mail address and contact information in the body of the message.

For more information on Generation FREE, visit www.generationfree.com.